

University of Georgia
School of Music

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

The program of study for the PhD is determined by the candidate in consultation with his or her advisory committee. Including hours earned at the master's degree level, the following is a recommended program.

Major Field (including research)*	30 hours
Minor Field (outside music)	12 hours
Electives (in music)	18 hours

* All candidates for the PhD complete a dissertation as part of their degree work. Credit hours for the dissertation are included in the hours for the major field above. Requirements for the dissertation vary between areas. For more specific information about these requirements, contact the faculty chair of your intended area.
